FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LINC GROUP REBRANDS AND REALIGNS EXISTING BUSINESSES TO REAFFIRM COMMITMENT TO GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY CLIENTS

Hopkinsville, KY — March 26, 2009 — The Linc Group and Linc Facility Services today announced that Linc's federal government business has been rebranded and realigned as Linc Government Services®. The new branding and realignment will leverage the international brand recognition and award-winning business platform of its parent organizations to better serve the unique facility services needs of the growing federal market.

Under the reorganization, BMAR & Associates, LLC has changed its name to Linc Government Services, LLC. In addition, Ferguson-Williams, LLC and REEP, Inc. (who formerly did business as Operational Support Services or OSS) will do business going forward as Linc Government Services. The newly rebranded and realigned Linc Government Services organization is headquartered in Hopkinsville, KY and specializes in providing comprehensive maintenance services, energy solutions, and leadership training/staffing to government and military facilities and agencies.

“Doing business with the government is more complex than working with the commercial sector, and requires a different level of protocol and expertise,” said Linc Facility Services President Phil Rogers. “Rebranding and realigning our existing government-focused companies to create one Linc-branded organization will allow us to really hone these skills and concentrate on making it as smooth as possible for government and military agencies to do business with Linc, and vice versa.”

The rebranded Linc Government Services business is headed by current President Leslie C. Cunningham, who has a long-standing affiliation with Linc and its predecessor companies. Cunningham is also a 26-year U.S. Army civil servant who has served as Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics for the U.S. Army in Europe and as Chief of the Forces Command Material Management Center (FMMC), among other notable positions.

“I’m excited about the new focus that the rebranding and realigning of Linc Government Services will have on the organization and the dramatic impact it will have on the market,” said Cunningham. “BMAR, Ferguson-Williams, and OSS were all well-known government suppliers before being acquired by Linc. Rebranding and realigning the companies creates a strong synergy that allows us to better leverage our operational and training expertise and resources, and more accurately portrays Linc’s best-in-class vision.”
