LINC FACILITY SERVICES NAMES NEW SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS

Richard Burl to Lead Expanded Company Growth and Development in MENA Region

WASHINGTON, D.C. – October 4, 2010 – Linc Facility Services (Linc) has named Richard Burl as Senior Vice President of International Operations.

Richard will lead Linc's efforts to expand its global footprint in the Middle East & North Africa (MENA) region. Richard will be based in Dubai in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) as he identifies and develops new business opportunities for Linc. He will also continue to grow and foster relationships with existing customers in the UAE, Qatar, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA), and Iraq.

"It is our pleasure to welcome a seasoned professional such as Richard to the international team," said Linc Facility Services President and CEO Phil Rogers. "We are confident that Richard's proven track record of driving organizations operational excellence and financial performance will enable us to continue our strong growth in the MENA region."

Richard will focus on ensuring Linc's long-term growth and financial stability through the pursuit of commercial business opportunities. He will oversee support operations for all international staff as well. Richard will also implement long-term business development plans to determine growth and market strategies.

Bringing more than 25 years of business development and operating experience to his new position, Richard was regional managing director of EMCOR Facilities Services (ME), Consultancy and O & M business prior to joining Linc. His extensive global background also includes management positions with OCS Group; Interserve, PLC; EMCOR (UK); and P.E. Kemp Holdings, PLC. Richard holds Bachelor of Science degrees in mechanical engineering and electrical & electronic engineering.
