MICROSOFT HIGHLIGHTS THE LINC GROUP AT MICROSOFT DYNAMICS AX 4.0 LAUNCH EVENTS

CIO Greg Lush is Key Customer Featured in Microsoft Launch Video and at U.S. Roadshow

IRVINE, CA — May 22, 2006 — Recognizing The Linc® Group (TLG) as a technological leader in the facility performance services market, Microsoft is featuring the company's CIO, Greg Lush, in a special Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 video with Bill Gates, and as a key customer speaker at all U.S. Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 Roadshow seminars. The popular partner and prospect seminar series, being held in May across the country, is part of the July launch of the Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 product, as is the video.

"TLG is highlighted at these launch events because the company is one of the first "live" Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 customers in the world and a true technology innovator that is totally committed to Microsoft's technology, people, and programs," said Richard Barnett, director of product marketing for Microsoft Dynamics AX. "TLG's integrated business model, with the Microsoft Dynamics AX and CRM implementation, is very compelling and aligns perfectly with our strategic direction for medium-sized to large service companies. We feel it is a story that should be shared with all Microsoft partners and prospects."

Lush was also a featured speaker at the 2005 and 2006 Microsoft Convergence conferences.

According to Lush, with its multiple business divisions initially running diverse Enterprise Resource Planning applications, TLG needed to implement a standardized, comprehensive, and scalable infrastructure for the company to achieve its aggressive growth plans. TLG chose Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 as its standard financial management platform because it delivered a true end-to-end solution that aligned with its existing Microsoft technology foundation. Invited to be a Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 TAP (Technology Adopter Program) member, TLG helped shape the final product and helped ensure key field service features were included to meet the needs of a rapidly-expanding, technology-based services company.

“TLG is unique in that it is the only service company with an integrated, technology-driven business methodology built on processes, standards, communication, and collaboration. This dedication to technology, especially Microsoft applications, is one of our competitive differentiators, allowing us to compel the delivery of high quality service regardless of the location, and quickly integrating acquisitions and rolling-out new franchises,” said Tracy Price, president and CEO of The Linc Group. “We are proud to be the first Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 customer in the world to go live. Microsoft’s promotion of our implementation is a true validation of our business model and acknowledgement of our innovation.

TLG’s implementation partner on the Microsoft Dynamics AX 4.0 project is Iteration2, Microsoft’s 2005 MBS U.S. Partner of the Year.
